Annual Meeting of the Parish

A bit more va-va-voom at the Annual Meeting of the Parish at 7:30pm on 12th May 2017

The room is booked, the date is set and we are taking suggestions as to how to improve the rather 'tired' format....

The meeting is your opportunity to shape what goes on in Naseby, to suggest improvements or just find out the latest news. Interactive displays? free drink ? formal sit down meeting? Displays by the village groups ? Just tell us what you'd like, it is after all not a Parish Council meeting it is a meeting by villagers for villagers and we want you to enjoy it and to come!

All suggestions to the Clerk at:

If I have got anything wrong in this article, I hope the people who worked on Village Pride in the autumn will forgive me; I should have made notes!

Our work featured laying more gravel and soil round the brackets of the new bench round the lime tree, and then sowing grass seed. What a foolish idea at that time of year you would think, but with this year's climate the seeds were up in days, and now there is a lush covering of green

The flower bed on that triangle was thoroughly weeded, and we hope some bulbs will come up in the spring.

One of the days we worked was particularly wet, so we gave up at lunch-time, forgoing our tea and cakes; however, in that time our two regular and valiant workers who have taken on The Fitz had done some excellent work, and black sacks began to stack up round the wall. Meanwhile, sticks from the churchyard were being brought down to the wall and bagged up.

Over our two week-ends the number of black sacks rose to over a dozen and the "Dell" round the side of the church now acquired an enormous bonfire of branches waiting for dry (!) weather when we can carefully dispose of it.

Particular thanks must go to the person who is prepared to dispose of our black sacks for us. The do not go all in one day, but they do all go.

I would like to thank most sincerely everyone who contributed on the designated week-ends, to John Middleton who can be relied on to keep the rose bush that overhangs the pavement from The Fitz under control, and to the people who are happy to do jobs as they arrived. One of these very kindly rolled away a sizeable chestnut branch which fell down one week-end. I saw him outside the shop and he agreed to do. When I next saw him in the pub he said the work was done, and then he announced to the entire company that he had seen me outside the shop and had been "Margaretted"!

A very Happy New Year to all of you.

Watch for April's Village Pride dates and come and join us.

Although everyone is looking forward to a New Year, I would like to take this opportunity to say a very big 'thank you' to all those who so generously supported our annual fundraising lunch in November – it was wonderful to welcome so many people on that very wild and windy day!

Unfortunately our speaker for December had to cancel and at the last minute Arthur Aldrich, whom many of you will know as a longstanding resident of Naseby, came to the rescue with a superb representation on his life in the theatre over many decades. What fascinating experiences he has had – we were enthralled – you may find yourself on our list of speakers now, Arthur!

Our New Year celebrations began as usual with a party at the home of Pat Yates – everyone who came had great food, drinks and overall good company!

Next month, our speaker, Connor Salter, is to talk about his life as a chiropractor, dispelling myths about slipped discs, trapped nerves and sciatica.

Looking ahead to March and, we hope, a wonderful spring, we are to have Neil McMahon to introduce us to the wildlife of Pitsford reservoir.

We always welcome visitors to our meetings which take place on the second Thursday of the month in Naseby Chapel at 7 30pm.

Thank you
Pat Yates

Rural Crime Article

Making Northamptonshire the safest place in England requires us to recognise and understand the differing needs and challenges of our urban and rural communities. I have therefore, along with the Chief Constable of Northamptonshire Police, introduced a Rural Action Strategy, which outlines my aspirations to tackle rural crime. This is important as Northamptonshire is well above the national average of 17% of people living in rural locations, with almost a third of our population living in and around rural towns.

Our Rural Action Vision centres on the key points of communication, prevention, performance, training & equipment, community engagement, victims and witnesses. We will maximise our capacity and ability to communicate effectively, in a timely and accurate way with rural communities. We will improve and use police and partnership tactics to prevent and detect crime in rural areas. We have developed a modern definition of 'rural crime' in order to measure performance, which identifies those crimes of concerns to rural communities. We are developing a clear command structure, governance regime, and stake holder map, to ensure that formal bodies such as NPCC, NFU and 'Watch' bodies are involved along with local arrangements such as Rural Forums and community groups. We will review and improve training and equipment provided to rural officers, staff and volunteers. We will plan engagement with rural communities to create a County-wide rural calendar of events and key seasonal crime types. We will be victim focused in our response and investigation efforts, and this will include Voice as well as an improved general response.

If you would like to find out more about our Rural Action Strategy, please visit the website at <http://www.northamptonshireruralaction.co.uk/>

Pressures continue at Northampton's hospitals

Kettering General Hospital and Northampton General Hospital continue to experience extremely high numbers of attendees at their Accident and Emergency departments. People reporting to the A&E department with minor injuries and ailments are being warned they face longer waits than normal as more serious cases are prioritised, and are being urged to use alternative NHS services where appropriate such as NHS 111, pharmacies, alongside seeing their GP in the normal way. The Corby Urgent Care should only be used if their condition cannot be seen by a GP or pharmacist and is clearly very serious.

Both hospitals continue to see large numbers of people who are acutely ill and need high priority hospital care. As a result, teams across the counties hospitals are under significant pressure in meeting this demand.

Plans are being put in place and staff are working really hard to ensure that all those people coming into hospital who need help get the care they need in a timely way.

Once again, our heartfelt thanks.

18th December 2015

Dear Mr Westaway

Thank you so much for your donation of £1,000.00 to Help for Heroes (H4H) in memory of your father Michael Westaway, raised from book sales 'Naseby Lion'.

Generosity like yours enables the Charity to provide the direct, practical support for which it was founded in 2007. Today, Help for Heroes delivers this across five key pillars of Recovery (Medical, Mind, Body, Spirit and Family) via a national network of financial support, recovery services and specialist charity partners.

Thanks to donations like yours, Help for Heroes has recently created a 'Hidden Wounds' psychological wellbeing service, supporting Veterans and military families living with common mental health issues. This is in response to the growing numbers now seeking support for psychological wounds.

One person who has benefitted from this service is Veteran Alex Ford, who felt enveloped by feelings of failure that he did not do enough for his comrades during his tour in Afghanistan. Alex says, "I felt I didn't do enough. This nagging doubt in my mind says 'you could've been better'. I had feelings of desperate depression; I couldn't see a way out of the fog that had enveloped me."

Although he still has bad days, Alex said the Help for Heroes 'Hidden Wounds' service has helped him gain perspective and gives him reassurance someone is there to talk to.

Alex has taken the first step on his recovery journey. But, there will be more steps for Alex and the thousands like him. Help for Heroes is determined to be by their sides for as long as they need. This is simply not possible without people like you. So thank you, so much, for your continued support.

Best wishes

Sounds like a fascinating book.

Here is an article from BBC News that appeared 18th Jan 2016:

Grant to prepare £1m Naseby visitor centre bid

A project to build a visitors' centre, costing more than £1m, for the site of one of most key battles in English history has won a lottery grant.

Naseby Battlefield Project (NBP) wants to build the centre at the Northamptonshire site of the decisive battle of the English Civil War.

The Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF) has given the group £9,900 to pay for a feasibility study and consultation.

NBP will then apply for a grant to build the centre.

The battle took place on 14 June 1645, when the army of parliament destroyed the King's army in fields just outside the village of Naseby.

Battle of Naseby

Within a year of the battle, the war was over and it established parliament's right to a permanent role in the government of the kingdom

Naseby was also a victory for the 'new modelled' army - Britain's first regular, red-coated soldiers and is, for many, the birthplace of the British Army

Despite the addition of farm buildings and the enclosing of fields, the landscape remains intact and has not been built over

The NBP Trustees and Patrons want to create the Naseby Battlefield Visitor Centre as an information resource about the battle itself, the Civil War, the political and social history of the era, the rural environment in the 1600s and what life was like at the time.

NBP chairman Lord Arthur Hazelrigg, said: "We are thrilled to have received the support of the Heritage Lottery Fund to develop our plans for a visitor centre that will bring the Battle of Naseby to the national prominence it deserves.

Mike Ingram, project trustee, said the centre "would be somewhere to anchor the story and show artefacts of the battle".

January 2016

As I write on the 10th January I can see the first snowdrops in the garden and even a glimpse of daffodil buds. At least, so far, it has been an incredibly mild winter, although I am sure we will get some much colder weather in the coming weeks.

I know I harp on about scams that I hear about, but I would hate anyone to get caught out. These folks are so clever at convincing people that they are genuine.

One scam that came to my attention recently was where the victim is told, by telephone, that they are to receive a rate rebate of up to £7,000! (We wish) They are then told that they must pay an administration fee in advance. NO LEGITIMATE ORGANISATION WOULD EVER ASK FOR A FEE FOR A REBATE. If you should get a call of this type please report to: www.actionfraudpoliceuk/reportfraud or call 0300 123 2040. I do have further details if anyone is unsure what to do.

I am including a piece on how Watch groups are warning the public about scams.

Do not give money or your bank card numbers to:

1. Anyone who calls on the phone
2. Anyone who comes to the door
3. Someone saying they have a delivery and need release payment by card—they will empty your account
4. The "police". They don't collect card numbers
5. Banks, they don't ring for card numbers
6. Lottery, they don't call or write
7. A long lost relative from abroad who needs some help
8. Someone asking to meet you at the bank as there is a problem with your account

There are many more. Whatever the scam, if it sounds wrong it probably is. Ignore it and hang up.

One last thing, there is an elderly lady living in Clipston who tends to wander, and what worries me dreadfully is that she doesn't stick to the footpaths, and walks in the road. I am sure many of you will have seen her. Please watch out for her, she could easily get hurt, as could drivers pulling out to avoid her.

Do please contact me if I can help in any way.
